Singer -songwriter Marja Mattlar did her first song Sateen jälkeen in 1970, but her debut album Pariisi-Vuorenkylä was released 1993. What happened in between? The new Varhaisten parhaita -collection may have answers to that question. This new release offers favourites and rarities, mostly from the beginning of Marja's career, the songs that people miss, use to ask and like to listen to just these versions that now are available on this album.

While searching and saving gold songs from the tapes Marja found 5 songs that were worth more than just saving and later found way to this collections. Soon after that many more rarities were cleared from the dust, edited and mastered.

To this special collection Marja picked up 12 songs, that are not on the later albums and 3 songs, on which the versions are slightly different.

At the same time a long awaited dream came true, The Notebook Säv & san Marja Mattlar. Marja chose the songs that are mostly asked during the years and the ones that have been most popular on live performances. And some of them just because Marja felt that they belong to this note compilation.

The artwork for the both releases were made by graphic Minna Mäkipää and she chose to use these delicate and beautiful flower ornaments which in their own way show how thoughts and feelings of a songwriter grow little by little into the words and music and then even further in the ears of the listeners.

Varhaisten parhaita –CD album and Säv & San Marja Mattlar Notebook release date is 27.10.2010
